

Job Title	Newly Qualified Paramedic (NQP)
Band	Indicative/provisional AfC band 5
Location	Sector Based
Reporting to	Group Station Manager

Job summary

(overview of role/remit)

To participate in a structured programme to properly integrate and support newly qualified paramedics into the ambulance service workplace, enabling time to consistently apply academic knowledge, skills and placement experience into confident practice, the newly-qualified paramedic (NQP) will be expected to undertake a two-year consolidation of learning. This will include reflective practice and feedback, where through direct and indirect clinical supervision they will learn to apply their knowledge.

The NQP will be expected to operate within Trust clinical policies, JRCALC guidelines, protocols, procedures and SOPs and seek advice or refer to a more senior clinical colleague when a decision to deviate is needed, for example a clinical support desk/hub or other Health Care Professional.

The NQP will always have access to clinical advice and/or support but MUST take clinical advice as dictated by Trust protocol and/or support from an identified source e.g. clinical support desk/hub or other Health Care Professional, whenever they consider it may be necessary to deviate from protocols, procedures, SOPs and clinical guidelines.

Responds to emergency and urgent calls, delivering high quality and effective pre-hospital care (within the scope of practice and competence of the individual) and transportation. This may (but not exclusively) include 999 emergencies, inter-hospital transfers, urgent hospital admissions and other allocated responses commensurate with the role.

Carry out assessment, care, treatment and transportation of patients as an operational practitioner, working in a variety of locations.

Post-holders will initiate appropriate care and effective treatment to patients in pre-hospital environment, selecting and applying appropriate skills and equipment safely and within appropriate level of education, competence and scope of practice.

While the NQP programme is ordinarily over a maximum period of 24 months, NQPs may complete the programme in a shorter timescale, for example if they already have previous relevant experience. All NQPs will need to demonstrate that they meet the standards required by the consolidation of learning period.
